There are hassles from Gram Panchayats both during construction period and arbitrary enhancement in property taxes and payment thereof; High power tariff, Cross Subsidy Surcharge, Additional Cross Subsidy charges on Open Access leading to higher cost of power for manufacturing sector in state. Dr. D Nageshwar Reddy, Chairman, AIG Hospitals speaks on Health for ALL

1st July, 2021

Webinar on Health for All addressed by Padma Shri Padma Bhushan Dr. D Nageshwar Reddy, Chairman – AIG Hospitals along with Manish Shah, Vice President, HDFC. In the presence of Ramakanth Inani, President, K. Bhasker Reddy, Senior Vice President, Anil Agarwal, Vice President, Shekar Agarwal, Chair, Narender Surana, Advisor, Health Care Committee, Arun Luharuka, Past President and Khyati Naravane, CEO, FTCCI.

Dr. D Nageshwar Reddy, Chairman, AIG Hospitals said that COVID passes through several stages like asymptomatic stage, severe stage and critical stage. Fatality is less than 1%. If the statistics are taken broadly i.e. those who do not visit any lab or hospital are taken into consideration fatality is 0.1%. The COVID affects the patient in two ways i.e. circulation of virus in body for first week and during 2nd week, body fights side effects. Monoclonal antibodies concept is a revolutionary step in the treatment of COVID. Earlier doctors used to administer Remdesvir and Steroids. He cautioned that the treatment with steroids should be avoided or to be taken under close medical supervision. The reason is steroids have serious side effects. If Monoclonal antibodies treatment is administered the recovery is swift, because it eliminates virus and avoids the fight of side effects phase of the body thus reducing the fatality risk. The main advantages of monoclonal antibodies are protective to the extent of 95% and reduce the hospitalization to the extent of 70%. He also stated that the patients are spontaneously cured with no major reactions.

He also informed that the First wave of COVID was Wuhan Virus and during Second wave of COVID it is caused Delta Virus. Delta virus is very contagious and hence the second phase was severe. He also stated that the third wave affected the country muted fashion. It may not be severe because mutations may be mild or week. He also stated that children may not be affected because 50% of children have already developed antibodies and hence will have minimal effect.

He highlighted the importance of the vaccination because vaccines protects and makes the infection mild and reduce the risk of fatality. He also informed that the vaccine can be administered on lactating mothers also because it will benefit both mother and infant. Ramakanth Inani, President, FTCCI in his welcome address informed that the Asian Institute of Gastro Enterology (AIG) is a prestigious institution and brought laurels to Hyderabad in particular and Telangana in general. The AIG stands apart and superior to other highly rated medical institutions because of its research and development activity.
