Brief About Course

International Trade is becoming complex. In India, cross-border trade involves dealing with Customs, the Border Control Authority and understanding the Trade Policy measures of the government in the course of Export or Import of goods.

For traders seeking entry into the Indian market, a good understanding of the customs law and procedure followed by Trade Policy is extremely essential. This helps in making an informed decision as well as in managing risks related to cross-border trade regulations.

As first step the aim of the Course is to provide a basic understanding of Customs Law and Procedures. In the subsequent certification course the related Exim Policies and Exchange Control implications will be taken up.

Therefore this course covers the essentials of Customs Law and Procedure Spread over 8 days in daily sessions of two hours duration each.
